NNIT's search for the Perfect AD Manager...

NNIT, being in IT Development, was in need of reports with ultra-fine precision that will give an eagle-eye view of the Active Directory activities. In addition to reports, their helpdesk structure demanded delegation of authority. In a nutshell, NNIT was looking for an application that fixed the holes of unaided Active Directory management that would not burn a hole in their wallet!

And it ended here...

ManageEngine ADManager Plus, riding on the crest with more than 150 reports that provide a “Sherlock Holmes’s view” of every Active Directory object and delegating suitable authorities to helpdesk technicians, and falling to the trough in pricing, surely had the credentials to become the undisputed choice for NNIT.

How NNIT found its perfect match...

NNIT was targeting a comprehensive and cost-effective AD Solution, and with ADManager Plus, they know that they have hit the bull's eye! Simple methods of installation and deployment, the ease in migrating data from one server to another...all these qualities have made ADManager Plus an assured place in the list of preferred Active Directory Management Tools that NNIT was looking for. Above all, what proved to be the icing on the cake was the Tomcat framework of the product that could provide vital information regarding security.

About NNIT:

NNIT is 1400-strong and one of Denmark's leading consultancies in IT development, implementation and operations. For over a decade, they have applied the latest advances in technology to make software development, business processes and communication significantly more effective. About ADManager Plus ADManager Plus is enterprise-wide Active Directory management software with out-of-the-box reporting user-management features. With an interface that allows ease of access, and simplicity of reports, ADManager Plus presents itself as an IT Manager's magic-wand when it comes to Active Directory management. Plus, the reports are oxymoronic – exhaustive in data intensity, yet simple to comprehend.

Feast on the Features...

ADManager Plus is armed to the teeth for any Active Directory management task. With this tool, you can:

- Manage AD objects in bulk by using the CSV import/export feature.
- Generate about 150 different kinds of reports on Active Directory users and other objects, and schedule them to run periodically.
- Effectively manage Active Directory groups and OUs.
- Delegate Active Directory tasks and authority for technicians.
- Synchronize with Microsoft Exchange to create mailboxes.
- Think out any other feature of an AD Manager and it's bound to be in here...

...and NNIT and ADMP lived happily ever after!!

The confluence of performance-effectiveness and cost-effectiveness is rare, and ADManager Plus is one such rarity. No wonder, it has swept the technicians of NNIT of their feet, so they can be sure-footed with regards to their Active Directory management.
